

ETHICS AND VALUES

Understanding Ethics:

Principles that govern behaviour, defining what is good, bad, right, and wrong. Ethics are often derived from societal norms, laws, and moral philosophies.

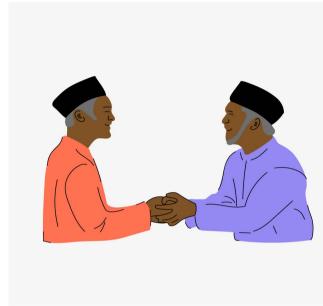

Defining Values:

Core beliefs or standards that guide behaviour and decision-making. Values are deeply personal and can be influenced by culture, religion, family, and personal experiences.

Core Ethical Principles

Integrity:

Being honest, transparent, and consistent in actions and decisions.

Responsibility:

Acknowledging and accepting the consequences of one's actions.

Respect for Others:

Treating others with dignity and consideration, recognizing their rights and viewpoints.

Core Ethical Principles Contd.

Justice:

Ensuring fairness, equality, and impartiality in interactions and decisions.

Caring:

Showing empathy, compassion, and concern for the well-being of others.

Civic Duty:

Contributing to the community and participating in democratic processes.

Cultivating Ethics and Values

Self-Reflection:

Regularly reflect on personal beliefs, values, and behaviours. Assess whether they align with ethical principles

Education:

Learn about ethical theories and moral philosophies through formal education, reading, and discussions

Role Models:

Identify and emulate individuals who exemplify strong ethical behaviour and values.

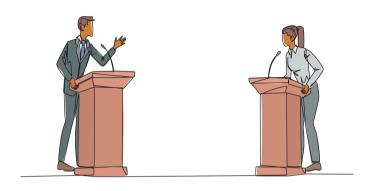

Cultivating Ethics and Values Contd.

Community Engagement

Participate in community activities and discussions to understand different perspectives and reinforce shared values.

Dialogue and Debate

Engage in constructive conversations about ethical ditemmas and values to broaden understanding and strengthen convictions.

At Policypedia.ng, our content provides the necessary information for raising awareness about peaceful communities and responsible citizenship to support Nigeria's overall performance and development

We'd love to hear from you academy@nesgroup.org
Visit: www.policypedia.ng

https://academy.nesgroup.org

